

Ilona Loser, CC BY 4.0
<<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-sa/4.0/>>, via Wikimedia Commons

Squash bees (Peponapis pruinosa)

Photo by Nate Walton, MSU Extension

- Exclusively visit squashes, pumpkins, and gourds
- Resemble honey bees but with hairier thorax and bands of hair on abdomen
- Males may sleep in flowers overnight

For more information go to pollinators.msu.edu

