Mock It Then Rock It: Wexford Missaukee Mock Interview Day Friday,
February 9, 2024 | 8 am – 11:30 am
Baker College

Mock It Then Rock It is an event for high school students of working age to learn workforce preparation skills in an experiential way. Students have the opportunity to engage in a practice interview, have their resumes reviewed, and learn about various topics in mini-breakout sessions. This year, we are also extending the invitation to all WMISD districts, area private schools, and homeschooled and virtual students. The event returned last year and saw over 200 participants and we're hoping to double that this year!

Volunteers* will continue to conduct practice interviews and review resumes. Based on feedback from last year, we will have a different setup to limit noise and improve event flow, and we are updating forms to it easier for you to give feedback to students. We are also offering volunteer orientation twice this year via Zoom on Thursday, February 1 at 6 pm and Friday, February 2, at Noon.

We'd appreciate it if you could spread the word about the event to your network. We're still looking for 50 volunteers!

*Volunteers not representing a business or organization may be asked to complete a screening process for student safety.

Any homeschooled or virtual students should register to attend by emailing Kate: kingka26@msu.edu

Michigan 4-H Volunteer Webinar Series: Teaching Science When You Don't Know Diddley-Squat

Zoom | Noon or 7 pm

This session is Teaching Science When You Don't Know Diddley-Squat is a series of science lessons that can be taught with no science background and materials you probably already have at home, or with a quick shopping trip. If you have a club meeting coming up tonight, and don't have much time to prepare – these lessons are for you. They are designed to get young people thinking using their natural curiosity. Science isn't about memorization; an internet search can give you facts. It is about using critical thinking to ask questions and discovering answers on your own. (and determining whether those internet answers are correct)
